

John Cahillane Joins CP Engineers, Architecture & Life Sciences as Staff Engineer

Posted on December 23, 2014 by CP Engineers Architecture & Life Sciences in Local Business, Press Releases // 0 Comments

John Cahillane, photo courtesy of CP Engineers, Architecture & Life Sciences.

 Like 12

 Tweet 4

 +1 0

SPARTA, NJ – John Cahillane of Denville has joined CP Engineers, Architecture & Life Sciences in Sparta as a Staff Engineer. Cahillane will be providing engineering support to the firm’s Water/Wastewater, Site/Civil, Environmental, and Mechanical, Electrical and Plumbing (MEP) practices.

Cahillane is a recent graduate of Syracuse University’s L.C. Smith College of Engineering and Computer Science, with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Civil Engineering.

“John has made a great addition to our engineering team,” said Ray Roggero, Managing Member of CP Engineers, Architecture & Life Sciences. “He has provided superior support to a number of our firm’s engineering practices and has strengthened our efforts in providing excellent engineering services to our clients.”